

Reflection for Wildlife Module

People who practice IPM problem solving methods realize that 100 percent wildlife damage control often is not practical. By considering environmental impacts and your own needs, how can you use IPM methods to find the best plan of action?

Tip: you can use these fact sheets to learn which management practices work best for the offending pest species: <https://wildlifedamage.cals.wisc.edu/>