

Reflection for Fruit Module

It's important to keep in mind that fruits are a broad topic to cover in a single module in an introductory course. We covered a lot - planting and training systems, pruning techniques, pollination requirements and more.

If you are a novice to fruits, are there any you would like to try? Where will you turn when you need information about soil, planting, training, and pruning requirements?

If you have experience growing small fruits, what is a new technique you plan to add to your IPM toolkit? Why?
